Please attach a personal letter of recommendation describing the reasons this person should receive this award and a current curriculum vitae of the person that you are nominating. The nominations review process is kept confidential. Ideally, nominees should not be aware that they have been nominated. Up to two additional supporting letters are permitted from individuals who are familiar with the work, integrity and character of the nominee.

Failure to meet the submission criteria may disqualify the recommended candidate.

For the Wiggs Outstanding Candidate Award - the Committee is aware that nominees who have participated in a full-time residency program are likely to have had greater opportunity to see a wider range of unusual cases, to conduct investigations, prepare and make presentations, and to prepare articles for publication compared with nominees who participated in an Alternate Pathway or part-time Residency Program.

The committee would like to take a balanced look at the accomplishments of all nominees, and welcomes your comments on this point, either in your letter or here.
